1. English Language Arts: Coaches and Coordinators

Transfer Goal Vertical Impact and Profile of a Graduate Work

This was a presentation highlighting how the district carries through learning outcomes referred to as Transfer Goals throughout the grades from early elementary grades through high school. This process was walked through utilizing video presentations and student performance around such skills as developing alternate perspectives, and presenting cogent arguments. What was stressed was the ongoing process of monitoring student progress and adjusting as needed.

2. FAB LAB, presentation by Corey Rice, Dawn Fiorelli, Brian Bodner

This was a presentation on the development of a small Fabrication Lab to promote design thinking, independent projects and collaboration and entrepreneurship. The FABLAB could support the independent studies and interdisciplinary learning bridging math, science and the arts. The lab would include 3D printers, CNC machine, sewing machine, Digital music equipment, animation equipment to identify just a few items.

3. Public comment – none
